"No Friend Like the Old Friend."

The visit this year of many former Marionites to the city and to the Crittenden Springs has been the occasion for many happy meetings and pleasant reunions. When it became known that Bob and Ed Stinson and their families, Mrs. Dora Cochran Rodgers and her family and some others were visiting Crittenden Springs Hotel their friends of childhood began to plan to see them and talk over old times. According to Judge J. G. Rochester and family, W. N. Rochester and family, H. K. Woods and family, Thos. H. Cochran and son Thos. W. and Mrs. Nannie Cochran, R. I. Nunn and Misses Lena and Sallie Woods, planned to go down and have a picnic dinner and invite them all to partake of the Old Kentucky hospitality under which they were raised.

This was all put into effect last Thursday and a happier time was never spent. A good old fashioned picnic dinner was spread which consisted of all the good things "like mother used to make," and while discussing the feast reminiscences of the good old days of long ago were freely indulged in and many a hearty laugh called forth. All in all the day was to be remembered.

"Sing Skule" Coming Again.

ter, better, b-e-zier and fun-nier than ever, the "Singin Skule Begiment" which made such a hit here a year or two ago, will return and amuse those who witnessed it before, together with the new generation which has come in or "grewed up" since. Many changes have taken place in the entertainment as Mr. Bertham, one of the former projectors has since died and Mr. Willard the author, and one of the projectors here before, brings his wife, who has made a great success as one of the principal characters. Since its appearance here, the "Skule" has been in as great demand in larger cities as in the smaller ones, and Chicago, Indianapolis, Evansville, Terre Haute Louisville and other large cities have to have the "Beginiment" at least once each year. The entertainment comes under the auspices of the ladies of the M. E. Church, as before and they are selecting a splendid cast of local talent to assist Mr. and Mrs. Willard. It is scheduled for Friday night Sept. 4th, at the opera house and a merry laugh is in store for the amusement lovers of Marion. Mr. and Mrs. Willard will arrive about Aug. 28th and begin the rehearsals.

No Attempt to Force attendance of Missing Witnesses.

Eddyville, Ky., Aug. 21.—The Lyon county grand jury adjourned this afternoon without returning any indictments in connection with the night riders. In a report read by the foreman, K. T. Brashear, and signed by all of the members of the grand jury except Mr. Brashear and Mr. Moss Dodd, Judge Cook and Commonwealth's Attorney Denny Smith were exonerated of all connection with night-riding organizations. The members of the grand jury refused to talk about the occurrences in the jury room, but it was stated by one of them that no attempt had been made to subpoena any members of the Louisville Law and Order League to find out the whereabouts of missing witnesses, as they learned all that was necessary without these men. No explanation was given by either Mr. Brashear or Mr. Dodd regarding their refusal to sign the report of the majority. Last night a big barn on the place of Mr. Dodd, in the southern part of the county, was destroyed by flames, an investigation proved that the fire was of incendiary origin. The court officials have told Mr. Dodd that they would lend him all the aid in their power in running down the culprits. Mr. Dodd is an association farmer.

To Wreck a Train.

Someone placed an obstruction on the R. R. trestle near Dawson, the other night, and a serious catastrophe was narrowly averted. The people of that vicinity are terribly incensed at the quartering of soldiers at Dawson Springs and blame the railroad officials. For some time the trestle and railroad has been patrolled by a gang of men so close together that they could continually see one another. How an obstruction could have been placed on the trestle under the existing circumstances it is hard to understand.—Muhlenburg Argus.

Crittenden Springs.

Crittenden Springs, Ky., Aug. 20 On Wednesday, Aug. 19, Crittenden Spring was the scene of one of the merriest picnics of the season. The affair was complimentary to Ed Stinson and family of Evansville, Robt. Stinson and family of Mount Vernon, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rodgers and son Emmett, of Evansville; Thos. H. Cochran and son, of Marion; Mrs. J. T. Cochran, of Marion; Mrs. George Cochran, of Nashville and Mrs. Briseniden, of Evansville, by the following Marion, Ky., friends: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Natt Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Nunn and the Misses Wond. The day was spent in every conceivable way. The chief attraction being the "yarn spinning" in the afternoon. Each lady and gentleman had a good supply on hand and each endeavored to outdo the other. The hospitality of the Marion people combined with the comforts and pleasures of Crittenden Springs afforded the fortunate participants a day never to be forgotten.—Evansville Courier.

Lost Strayed or Stolen.

One spotted sow, black and sandy, about three years old, has marks, weight about 175 pounds, has long nose, strayed from my barn at Crayne about two weeks ago.

Build Up Your Own Section.

"The love of our own" is a ruling passion with us in most things. The chief ex. is in schools. Many will send hundreds of miles away to a school no better than they have, at their own doors, pay higher prices and extra railroad fares, and really get less for their money than they can get at home, why?

"Distance lends enchantment to the view", the money thus sent so far away returns to us no more, and the institution thus is built up helps to enrich other sections at the expense of home impoverishment, not only in finances but in intelligence and refinement.

Why not patronize and build up home institutions, and thus save your money, enrich your own community and reap the blessings of an educated and cultured companionship?

OHIO VALLEY COLLEGE at Sturgis, Ky., is the CHIEF school and ONLY protestant school near here, and the only Baptist school in a radius of fifty miles of its location. We have a splendid brick building, a $7,000 dormitory for girls, hot water heated and electric lighted, large strong faculty, and healthful surroundings, and can give to the girls and boys of this part of this part of the State all they can get elsewhere for much less money than is paid to distance schools.

A thirty-six weeks session will open October 1st and every effort will be made to make it as good as the best and as cheap as can be had anywhere for the service rendered. Put your boys and girls where you can look after their interests and have them carefully trained, and where your money spent will in part flow back to you.

We invite correspondence from all parties who have children to educate. Especially Baptist people. Write for catalog and other matter and send your children to your school in your section of the State.

She Likes Good Things.

Mrs. Chas. E. Smith, of West Franklin, Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." These painless purifiers, Sold at Haynes & Taylor's and Jas. H. Orme's drug stores, 25 cents.

L. Rankins family who spent summer at Fords Ferry have returned home.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Miss Lula Sullivan, of Carraville were the guest last week of Miss Mamie Henry, on Salem streets.

Dr. J. W. Crawford, and wife of Blandville, and Mrs. L. Robinson and daughter, of Texas are the guest of relatives in the City.

The camp meeting at Hurricane which began last Sunday and was largely attended on that day, is still drawing large crowds and great interest is being taken.

The Tent meeting at Mattoon will begin Sunday Sept. 6th at 11 A. M. and will be conducted by Rev's B. L. Yates of Cadiz and W. D. Humphreys of Rushville Ills.

Miss Mary Lou Akin of Princeton who was the guest of Miss Maude Hurley, and also visited Crittenden Springs has returned home.

Dr. H. A. Slaven is in jail, on a charge of accessory before the fact to the killing of Jim Sullenger. His arrest caused surprise as it was not known that any move was to be made against him until the arrest was made.

Mrs. Welford White, of Helena, Ark., arrived Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. D. Woods.
